Australia's biggest celebration of wildflowers

It'll be a feast for the senses at the 2019 Kings Park Festival this September in Perth, Western Australia.

Western Australia has some of the most diverse and unique plant species anywhere on Earth, and you don't have to travel far to see them. Tens of thousands of extraordinary wildflowers from all over the State will be blooming in one spot – right here in spectacular Kings Park and Botanic Garden.

With an extravaganza of events and activities for garden gurus, wellness devotees, keen conservationists, culture cravers, families and wildflower enthusiasts, the Kings Park Festival runs from 1 – 30 September. Dozens of free guided walks, outdoor exhibitions, acoustic musicians and roving performers, science talks and other activities will take place, against a backdrop of colourful wildflowers.

With Instagrammable spots around every corner, iconic WA species including kangaroo paws, waxes, Qualup bells and carpets of pink everlastings are just some of the 3,000 plant species growing in Kings Park.

Kings Park and Botanic Garden and the Friends of Kings Park, with the generous support of Lotterywest, proudly present the 2019 Kings Park Festival.

Kings Park and Botanic Garden is Western Australia's most visited destination and one of the world's largest and most beautiful inner-city parks. With sweeping views of the Swan River and Perth city, it is home to the WA Botanic Garden, State War Memorial and many other attractions.
