Discover Kings Park

This walk will introduce you to many aspects of Kings Park, including the very significant botanical collection, the story of the establishment of the Park, its cultural importance and recreational features, all of which contribute to its popularity as a 'must see' tourist attraction.

Memorials and Memories

Learn about the many memorials in Kings Park that honour those who have died in conflicts overseas. While visitors enjoy panoramic views, this walk also shares the story of Kings Park from its inception to the present day.

Botanical Garden Treasures

The 16-hectare WA Botanic Garden contains an amazing array of plants from Western Australia, many of which grow nowhere else in the world. The botanic garden has links to other long established botanic gardens around the world, with a common goal of conservation of rare and endangered plant species.

Plant Uses

Also known as Rich Bushland Resources, this walk will introduce visitors to the many uses of the plants in the Banksia Woodland. Both Aboriginal people and the early colonial settlers depended on the plants around them for food and shelter. Today, many of these foods are available in cafes and restaurants.

Ancient and Unusual

Featuring plants and animals from the days of the dinosaurs, this walk shows the development of life as we know it from the days of Gondwana. Plants from ancient times are growing around an island, while sculptures of prehistoric animals are displayed nearby.

Available August - October

Wildflower Wonders

Western Australia's wonderful wildflowers are on display in the gardens and in the surrounding bushland. Seasonal variations occur, but there is always something interesting and different to see.

Bushland Bounty

Venture into the Bushland to see the naturally occurring trees and plants which burst into flower in spring. These plants are adapted to the climatic conditions and survive and thrive without irrigation. Birds and some animals will also be in evidence as you stroll through the bush.
